

POEMS EVERYBODY SHOULD KNOW.

NIGHT.

A well known English critic wrote of the poetry of Percy Bysshe Shelley: "Many of his contemporaries and nearly all the poetical writers of any eminence since his time bear visthe traces of how much they imbued themselves with shelley's poetry. I will mention as instances of this Keats, Browning and Tennyson. No one, indeed, who is unacquainted with Shelley can be aware of the full richness and melody of our language."

> Swiftly walk over the western wave. Spirit of Night! Out of the misty eastern cave. Where, all the long and lone daylight, Thou wovest dreams of joy and fear. Which make thee terrible and dear-Swift by thy flight!

Wrap thy form in a mantle gray, Star-in wrought! Blind with thine bair the eyes of Day, Kiss her until she be wearied out: Then wander o'er city and sea and land, Touching all with thine opiate wand-Come. long-sought!

When I arose and saw the dawn, I sighed for thee: When light rode high, and the dew was gone, And noon lay heavy on flower and tree. And the weary Day turned to her rest, Lingering like an unloved guest, I sighed for thee!

Thy brother Death came, and cried. Wouldst thou me?" Thy sweet child Sleep, the flimy-eyed, Murmured like a noon-tide bec. "Shall I nestle near thy side? Wouldst thou me?" And I replied, "No! not thee!"

Death will come when thou art dead, Soon, too soon-Sleep will come when thou art fled ; Of neither would I ask the boon I ask of thee, belov-ed Night, Swift be thine approaching flight, > > spot during her lifetime.

> Come soon, soon! -By Percy Bysshe Shelley.

the ordinary.

The leading spirit of the scheme is Mrs. Adelaide Johnson, the sculptress, who is well known here and abroad. A London banker named Smedley launches it financially. His daughter,

Miss Smedley, originated the London

Briefly the new club will include the many privileges which the recent move-ment in women's clubhouses has urged ment in women's clubhouses has urged as a necessity. It will be the local home of any out-of-town members, and will, in fact, cater especially to the traveling clientele. As it is intended to embrace all the arts and lilerature, it will offer facilities for disposal of work in those various lines, and will give opportunity for the meeting of women who have found distinction in different careers.

different careers.

and so became rich.

The revival of interest in Paul Jones which has followed upon the re-dis-covery of his body in Paris, is shown in the fact that Buell's "Paul Jones."

in navy, has gone into its eighth edi-

George Cary Eggleston is passing the summer in his home among the pines on the Edge of Lake George, near the house and stone library formerly occupied by his brother, the late Edward Eggleston. It is understood that Mr. Eggleston is completing the second volume of his "Little History of Colonial Life," which will deal with the life, manners and customs of the eighteenth century.

F. Marion Crawford has fled on board

Mrs. Hugh Fraser, Mr. Crawford's

NOTES.

After a slience of two years, Dr. ames M. Ludlow, author of "The Capalin of the Janizaries," is coming for ette Gilder, Hodgson Burnett, Miss Jean-James M. Ludiow, author of "The Captain of the Janizaries," is coming forward with a new book that is promised by the Rayell sompany in the fall.

This is a novel of the thirteenth century, entitled "Sir Raoul," and deals with the tremendous plot that diverted a whole crussde to the capture of the Christina city of Coustantinople.

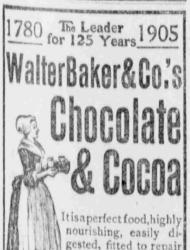

A girl now living in New York, who went to the big city absolutely without training, experience or friends, and with only a few dollars, has written flown the facts of her first few months fight against starvation. The book, which will be published soon under the little of "The Long Day" by the Century company, promises to be one of the vitally interesting and important books of the fail.

Frances Hodgson Burnett, Miss Jeannette Gilder, Mors, Ruth McEnery Stuart, Mrs. Alice Morse Earle, Miss Laura D. Gill, dean of Bernard: Mrs. Dimies T. S. Denison, Miss Hazard of Wellesley and other prominent women of the country are said to be actively interested in a club which originated in London, and which it is intended will have a chapter in each of the large cities of Europe and America. This Around the World club is by no means at a beginning. The British organization has already begun the story of the London Lyceum, which has head-quarters in Piccadilly, opposite St. James Park, Berlin is just about to take up the thread in Pottsdamer strasse, and the New York Lyceum's opening is expected at the same time.

Already the titles of new novels to be expected in the fall are being announced. William le Queux will deal in "Behind the Throne," with intrigues Benind the Throne," with intrigues supposed to have gone on at the Quirlial during the latter years of King Humbert's reign. Miss Florence Warden has in press a story about sensational proceedings in an old English country house, which she will call "Playing the Knave," and a posthumorous novel by Guy Boothby, "A Brighton Teagant," and a posthumorous novel by Guy Boothby, "A Brighton Tragedy," is loso promised for

It is hinted that the novelette in Lipott's Magazine for August, entitled r First Elopoment," comes from pen of a well-known writer, who dentity under the pseudo-lara Bartram." The story is a gay resital of one summer's happen-lags at Newport,

Dr. S. Weir Mitchell has called the attention of the Calonial Dames to the of the Calonial Dames to the of the Washington graves in the Westmoreland county, Va. Surying ground, long neglected in charge of the Washington dia charge of the Washington, and the family to to to the family to to the family to to the family to sustine Washington, and her two children have been raised and restored. The whole is now inclosed with a strong, its fence. Now that the res-gested, fitted to repair wasted strength, preserve health and pro-Registered long life.

A new and handsomely llustrated Recipe Book sent free.

in Europe and America

F. Marion Crawford has fled on board his yacht, the Olda, to escape the tourists who every summer besiege his Correntine villa, and has gone south long the Calabrian coast. The latest advices have it that he has shut himself up in his romantic retreat, the Casteletto di San Nicolo, one of the watch towers erected by Charles V against Saracenic invasion. This probably means that we shall have a new romantic novel for the Christmas holidays, for "Fair Margaret" will scargely have completed its serial run by that time, Mr. Crawford also has a book on Venice for the autumn, much after the style of "Ave Roma Immortalis." Walter Baker & Co. Ltd. shed 1780, DORCHESTER, MASS. 45 Highest Awards

Pleasant to Take, Powerful to Cure,

In Every Home. KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE

cines have totally failed. No sufferer should despair as long as this remedy is untried. It has an unproken record of success for over 30 years, and has won bosts of warm friends.

Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the causes mentioned? If so, Dr. Kennedy has staked his personal and professional reputation on the statement that Fuvorite Remedy will do you good.

the statement that Favorite Remedy will do you good.

Send for a free trial bottle and booklat containing valuable medical alvice on the freatment of various diseases. Write also for an "Ensy Test" for finding outly you have kidney disease. Address Dr. David Kennedy's Sons, Romdout, N. V., and the price is $1.00 ets beine $1.00 ets

Hermann Lingg, whose death in his eighty-sixth year is announced from Munich, is almost the last of the talented hand of posts who gathered at Munich in the early sixties, and who included Gribel, Scheffel and Bodenstedt William. Munich in the early sixties, and who included Geibel. Scheftel and Bodenstedt. His life was comparatively unseventful. He studied medicine and became a military surgeon in the Bavarian service, but ill-health obliged him to resign in 1851. King Maximilian granted him a pension and he was therefore able to devote himself to literature, at which he was specially successful as a writer of lyrics and therefore able to devote himself to literature, at which he was specially successful as a writer of lyrics and hallads. His talent was distinctly original, though his name has little chance of permanent pre-eminence. His duamatic efforts were follures, but many hall along the state of permanent pre-eminence. His duamatic efforts were follures, but many hall along the state of permanent pre-eminence. The state of permanent pre-eminence of permanent pre-emin

Readers of Wordsworth will be interested to hear that the Gowbarrow estate is for sale. It lies on the north side of Ullswater, and is associated with Aira's Force and Lyulph's Force. It inspired Wordsworth to write "Airay Force Valley," where he describes "the soft eye-music of slow-waying boughs," caused by the breeze entering the gien, and it is still gay with daffodis in March, as it was when Miss Wordsworth, the poet and his wife saw a host of them toration has been completed, a descend-ant of Augustine Washington, Miss Wilson, has agreed to look after the Beside the lake, beneath the trees, Fluttering and dancing in the breeze. Hence the poem known as "The Dafall rantastic, all unreal and shadowy as the moonlight which created them," sister, is will in New York, reading the proofs of her long-awaited novel dealing with the intimate life of Mary Washington, the mother of George, Methuen will publish the book in England with the title, "In the Shadow of the Land." Mrs. Fraser expects to start for Japan toward the end of the menth to revisit the scenes of "A Diplomatist's Wife in Japan," "The Customs of the Country," and "A Maid of Japan."

Brentanos have acquired by purchase the plates and the entire stock of the books formerly published by the Scott-Thaw company. Among these are many choice titles, and in most cases the books are exquisitely printed and in limited editions, including Inndors "Pericles and Aspasla," Waiton's "Lives" and "The Golden Ass of Apuleius." The series also includes a beautiful edition on veilum of Hobein's "Dance of Death." a complete reproduction from woodcurs of the famous series by the great artist.

Hermann Lings, whose death in his Messra Scinchy, Wikinson & Hodge in the contract of the great artist.

Messra Scinchy, Wikinson & Hodge in the Scinchy, Wikinson & Hodge in the defection in most of the quartog above mentioned, they form an intermeting series, and we keepe, will find a resting place on American soil.

Messra Scinchy, Wikinson & Hodge

BOOKS.

WHAT THE BEST MAGAZINES CONTAIN.

Ainsice's for September is brighter | book, "Partners of the Tide," is mak-

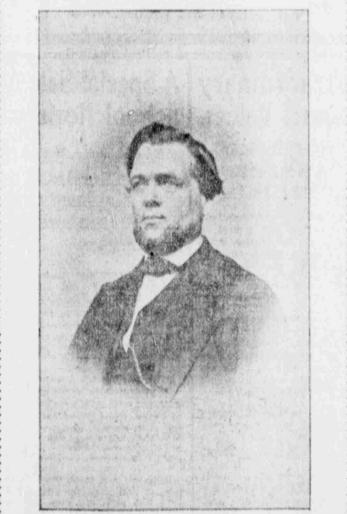

The novelette is "The Maintenance of Jane," by Margaret G. Fawcett, a sparkling, withy story of a fascinating young woman. All readers of the magazine will regret that "The Deluge." sparkling, withy story of a fascinating young woman. All readers of the magnessial will regret that "The Deluge," by David Graham Phillips, ends with this number. It has turned out to be one of the great serials of the time. Van Rensselaer Cruger—has a noteworthy essay in "Mis-Matel Americans," which contains an answer to some of Mr. Henry James' recent strictures on America, Another of Mrs. Wilson Woodrow's delightful fittle sketches, "Conversations with Egeria," A second essay which is of great interest deals with the unique conditions of society in Charleston, S. C. It is by Annie Rittenhouse, and is entitled "The Golden Appic." An extraordinary story is "Mr. Evremond," by Mrs. John and Marle Van Vorst. It is one of unusual strength and absorbing interest. Joseph C. Lincoln, whose new Alaslee Magasine Co. New York.

Ainslee's for September is brighter and more entertaining than ever. Its table of contents embraces a list of extremely clever, up-to-date fiction of a literary quality that is worthy of the magazine.

The novelette is "The Maintenance of Jane," by Margaret G. Fawcett, a december of many common of the magazine.

LEAVES FROM OLD ALBUMS.

 $\phi$  is a section of the contract of the contr

**************** APOSTLE FRANKLIN D. RICHARDS. From an Old Photograph Taken in England.

«Saturday Sermons.»

WRITTEN FOR THE DESERET NEWS BY ELBERT HUBBARD.

YMPATHY! It is the touchstone to every recret, the key to all knowledge, the open acsame to all hearts. Put yourself in the other man's place, and then you will know why he thinks certain thoughts and does certain deeds. Put yourself In his place, and your blame will dissolve itself into pity, and your tears will wipe out the record of his misdeads,

The average man plays to the gallery of his own

Oh, this game of life is a great play! The blissful uncertainty of it all! The ambitions, plans, strivings, heartaches, mind desires and vain reaching out of empty arms. The tears, the bitter disappointments, the sleepless nights, the echoes of prayers unheard, and the hollow hopelessness of love turned to hate.

Would you make men better, set them the example.

If some latterpreachers had been among the Twelve Aposties, pour Thomas would hardly have recrived honorable

Every tyrant who

There is no wine like the wine of plus something ing so hygienie as

To be gentle,generous, kind; to win by a few words: and to disarm critis through the poten-

Religions are many and diverse, but reason and goodness are one

I believe that the love of man for woman and the love of womanfer man, is hely; and that this love in all its promptings is as much an emanation of the Divine Spirit, as man's love for God, or the most daring hazards of the human mind,

I believe in the blessed trinity of father, mother

Venetian Scholars Find

Othello's Name Was Querini

SOUR LONDON LITERARY LETTER.

vestigators appear to have had access to the same material their stories are very different. According to the French paper Desdemona's tracic death really simply means that the town authorities courred in Crete in the year 1523. Othello had an accomplice in his valet whom he instructed to place himself in a chamber close to the lady's apartments and start groaning as though something had suddenly gone amiss with him. Then Othello asked his wife to get up and find out what was the matter. As she crossed the threshold a sackful of grass was flung at her head. She fell to the ground and was then assalled with a succession of similar grass-filled sacks, being finally smothered under the failing ceiling and masoury which had been loosened.

ried Palma Caleri—the Desdemona of the play—who was 20 years his Junior. They lived at Rethymo. They did not get along at all well together at first. Signor Levi quotes letters from Antonio Calergi, Palma's cousti, describing how she was cruelly beaten by her husband and had to take sanctuary in the church of San Francesco,

The final recipe for reguery in ar is "know thyself," When a writer portrays a villain and does it well-make no mistake, he poses for the character himself.

Write and speak as you feel, but make sure you feel right. Do not fear being misunderstood; you are never wholly neisunderstood excepting when you feel you will be.

A man is seldem aware of the motives that move him: we deceivaourselves, and hide behind spacious pleas of many bues.

Men who have real good bank balances do not need to wear fashionable clothes.

If a man does better than his fellows, he must pay the penalty. Personality is an offense. and child. I believe that God is here, and that we are as near Him now as we ever shall be. I do not believe He started the world agoing and went away and left it to run itself.

The success of art depends upon what you omit from your can yass.

"The trials of Commander McTurk," a new series of complete stories by Cutcliffe Hyne, creator of "Captain Kettle" and "McTodd," begins in the September issue of The Popular Magnatine, and if one may be permitted to judge from the opening story, "Annexed in Error," the series will fully, and possibly surpass, anything this talented author has hitherto written. In any event, the appearance of such a series, by a writer of Mr. Hyne's cales the surple of the Ambassador," a story of intrigue, by George Bronson-Howard, "The Club House Contingent," a racing story, by Charles Steinfort Pearson, "Twenty to get a defunct relative buried there Institute Veneto." Although both in-matter. As she crossed the threshold a sackful of grass was flung at her head. She fell to the ground and was then assailed with a succession of similar grass-filled sacks, being finally smothered under the failing ceiling and masonry which had been looseved by Othello's orders. This version makes Othello a regular low down villair.

The Italian goes much more late de-tails. He identifies Othello with Nicolo Querini who had fought hard for the

Suffering Women

Need not be sick any longer for in the Bitters they can find a sure cure. It is compounded especially for such aft-

ments as women and girls are subject

HOSTETTER'S

STOMACH BITTERS

is a perfectly safe medicine and has re-goes not?—will want to read these good others comprise the short stories and test their merit for himself.

Among the other good things in this number are five fine serials, two of which. "The Ship Owner," by Morgan land," a collection of new theatrical Robertson, and "A Campaign of Con- stories.-Street & Smith, New York.

The announcement that the old ram-

Mrs. Campbell Praed has recovered from the illness which drove her from London last spring, and kept her from work, and has now nearly completed a novel which is to be entitled "The Lost

Those unique collaborators K. and Hesketh Prichard, who, as everyone knows, are mother and son, have finished with "Don Q." for the time at least, and are making use of their travels to Patagonia, Hayti, and other out-of-the-way corners of the globe, in a novel of adventure provisionally entitled "The Fortunes of Cleaf". Hesketh soon have to be made whereby the un-worthy ones and their monuments will gradually be cleared out to make room will have to be established for the re-ception of memorials of those who contribute to England's greatness. The unsatisfactory state of affairs that now exists in the Abbey has been largely caused by allowing the matter to be controlled by its ecclesiastical authorities. That is the reason why so many troppersisters. Inconspicuous cleries encumbes its precious space. It has been proposed in parliament that the Abbey ecclesiastics should no longer be allowed to astics should no longer be allowed to exercise such exclusive control. The passage of such a measure would be a step in the right direction. But it would avail little if not accompanied by some provision forbidding the Abbey of the bones and memorials of ONDON, Aug. 2.—That entertaining French paper, the Paris "Menestral," has just completed some researches among the ar-

those who never possessed any claim to even fleeting fame. H. C. NEW LIBRARY BOOKS.

some researches among the archives of the Querini family of which it is alleged that Shakespeare's Othello was a member. A Venetian scholar, Cesare Augusto Levi, has also overhauled a great bundle of documents relating to the same family and claims to have discovered the original source whence the great dramatist derived whence the great dramatist derived age in the great Venetian island. It is pleasant to learn, according to the The following 35 books will be added to the public library Monday morning, Aug. 21, 1905;

MISCELLANEOUS. Alexander—Life Insurance Company,
Armstrong—Lundy Family,
Baker—Forms of Public Address,
Ball—In Starry Realms,
City of Chicago—Tenth Annual Report Civil Service Comission,
Duncan—Schubert,

Duncan—Schubert.
Goldenberg—Lzice.
Hannson—Radium Explained.
Hunauer—Tales Told in Palestine.
Hutton—Talks in a Library.
Madison—Writings, vol. 5.
Niles—Personal Racollections.
Naylor—Elizabethan Virginal Book.
Peters. Early Hebrew Story.
Royle A. R. Golf Esse Culture (new edi-Peters, Early Hebrew Story. Root—A B C of Bee Culture (new edi-

Salisbury—Essays, 2 vols. Schiller—Dramatic Works. Squire—Mythology of the British Is-Stephens-Free-thinking and Plain Speaking.

Thorndyke—Elements of Psychology.
U. S. Surgeon General—Weekly Pub-ile Health Reports, 2 vols.
Warwick—Mirabeau and the French Whibiey-Companion to Greek Stud. FICTION.

Beach—Pardners,
Crocket!—May Margaret.
Flynt and Walton—Powers that Prey.
Norris—An Embarrassing Orphab.
Payne—Mills of Man.
Peake—House of Hawley,
Seten—Trail of the Sandhill Stag.
Silberrad—Petronilla Heroven.
Waller—Woodcarver of 'Lympus.
Wilson—Langbarrow Hall.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children.

DON'T BELIEVE

AMERICAN MERCANTILE & REPORTING AGENCY.

to a perfectly safe indicate and harden stored thousands of women to robust health who suffered from Monthly Irregularities, Backache, Dizziness, Fainting Spells, Indigestion or Dyspepsia. Norway the latter part of August. The difficulty encountered in finding room in Westminster Abbey for a recumbent effigy of the late Lord Salis-

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Chart Helitar:

The man who tells you that we cannot issue a RELIABLE RATING BOOK. It will contain more names and be more accurate than any heretofore published in Utah.

n novel of adventure provisionally entitled "The Fortunes of Geoff," Hesketh Prichard, who is one of the best bowlers among the non-professional English cricketers, has been a prominent figure in this year's English cricket season. He and his mother and Curtis Brown are leaving London for a trip in Top floor Atlas Blic. V. BENJ. PUTNAM, Mgr.